The members of the Keystone band

A number of Miss Nellie Sutter's

On Sunday morning, December 23rd,

1894, in the St. George Methodist church in the city of Philadelphia, Geo. H. Hagerty, of that city, and Miss Emma C. Henninger, of this place, were united in marriage. On the following day the newly wedded pair went to Boston on a ten day wedding trip. When they returned to the Quaker City they went to housekeeping in their own home that Mr. Hagerty had fitted up before he got married.

S. M. Lowther and Thos. E. Evans, of this place, gave a graphophone concert in Centennial hall Monday evening. The talking machine is a good one and the people were pleased with the concert. The audience was not as large as it would have been had it not been that services were held in three of the churches and the K. G. E. had public installation services in the G. A. R. hall. Lowther and Evans have an excellent machine and will give satisfaction to any audience before whom they give a concert.

In August of last year Geo. W.

Swartz and three sons, Willis, Ammon and Mike, went to Winter Haven, Florida, where Mr. Swartz had purchased a farm. The four men worked hard on the farm and had good hopes of a large remuneration for their labors. They had twenty-four acres of tomatoes. On the night of the 28th ult. a breeze direct from the north-land visited that section of the country and when the morning dawned and three-quarters of an inch of ice had been frozen and all the crops destroyed it is needless to add that four former citizens of this place were badly discouraged. It was just sixty years ago that a cold snap visited that part of Florida. This being the case it is no wonder that the people of Winter Haven were surprised. Mr. Swartz's loss from the freeze amounts to from $1,500 to $2,000.

Nicola Fosca, the Italian, who threw a beer glass through the large plate glass window in front of the Seeley, Alexander & Co. bank Sunday evening, was taken to Brookville jail yesterday afternoon. Some boys were throwing snow balls at Nicola and he went into Wm. Butcher's confectionery store and got the beer glass and threw it at the boys with all the Italian force he possessed. One boy got his head out of the way just as the beer mug whizzed by and struck the window. The Italian was put in the lock-up where he was kept until yesterday noon to give his countrymen an opportunity to raise fifty dollars to pay for the glass. The glass cost eighty dollars when it was put in thirteen years ago. The Italian was not justified in throwing the beer glass, nor had the boys a right to snow ball and plague the Italian. All deserve a lesson they will not soon forget.

League Entertainment.

The entertainment given in the opera house on Monday evening of last week by members of the Epworth League, was a first-class entertainment for home talent. All who participated acquitted themselves creditably. The fact of the matter is the entertainment was much better than many of the audience expected for the small price of admission. The opera house was well filled and the people were pleased with the entertainment.

Immigration Question.

Arrangements are being made to hold a public meeting of the citizens of Reynoldsville and vicinity in Centennial Hall next Saturday to adopt a set of resolutions to be presented to the United States Senate on the immigrant question. Prominent speakers will be present to address the meeting. This has become a very important question with the American people of to-day. It is likely a large crowd will attend the meeting Saturday evening.

K. G. E. Installation.

The Knights Golden Eagle held a public installation of officers in the G. A. R. hall on Monday evening. The following officers were installed: P. C., Wm. Reddecliff; N. C., Jos. Reed; V. C., Jas. Powell; H. P., Jas. Tyson; V. H., Ralph Reed; K. Ex., John Trudgen; C. Ex., J. C. Musser; M. R., Edwin Hoare; S. H., John Reddecliff; E., Wm. Bolt; Esq., Edward Watson; W. C., W. A. Reed; 1st G., John Braund; 2nd G., John Enewine; W. B., Robert Sarah. The installation service was an interesting one. A good program had been prepared and was well rendered. The hall was too small to accommodate the large crowd that attended.

Another Change.

In August, 1894, Green & Conser sold their interests as landlords of Hotel Belnap to L. S. McClelland. The business was new to Mr. McClelland, but he made a good hotel proprietor. However, he decided to quit the hotel and on the first day of this year John C. Dillman assumed proprietorship of Hotel Belnap and moved into the hotel. Mr. McClelland moved his family into the Robinson house on Main street, which Mr. Dillman vacated to move into the hotel. Dillman has a neck of catering to the wants of the public and will doubtless do a good business in Hotel Belnap. It is the largest hotel he has ever been proprietor of. Mr. McClelland will remain in Reynoldsville several months.

Must Shovel Snow off.

There are a few ordinances on the statute-book of this borough that those who are in authority do not enforce strictly, but the ordinance relating to keeping the sidewalks free from the accumulation of ice and snow, will be strictly enforced. The ordinance allows the owners of property twenty-four hours after a fall of snow to get their sidewalks cleaned. Twenty-four hours after the big snow storm on the 27th ult., the Burgess and street commissioner were out with a crew of men cleaning neglected sidewalks. Twenty per cent. is added by the borough for the cost of removing the snow. Besides this the persons who neglect or refuse to clean their sidewalks within the specified time are liable to a fine of not less than one nor more than five dollars. What a blessing it would be if the Burgess would enforce all the ordinances.

Enforce the Law.

If ordinances No. 7 and 8, prohibiting "loitering and loafing on the street corners, sidewalks, steps, &c., profane language, obscene remarks or actions," were enforced the Italian would not have broken the large plate glass in the Seeley, Alexander & Co. bank Sunday night. It is a shame that our borough officers allow the gang of loafers to congregate on the Arnold corner and other places Sunday nights. It is simply outrageous and should not be tolerated in any community, especially in a town the size of Reynoldsville. Unless some of boys of this town are taken in hand and made examples of, it is hard to tell where it may end. Enforce the law! It is done occasionally. If there are not police enough to do the work, then let council employ enough to break up the accursed habit of loafing on the street corners and using profane and obscene language.

Scalded to Death.

Neale Coyle, brother of M. J. Coyle and Mrs. Dennis Bolger, of this place, was so badly scalded at Glade Mills, Butler county, at 2:00 a. m., December 26th, 1894, that he died in awful agony twenty-four hours afterwards. Mr. Coyle was a driller and at the time the awful accident occurred had gone into a boiler house to warm himself. While sitting there the dome of the boiler—a rare thing to happen—blew off and Mr. Coyle was enveloped in steam and hot water. He inhaled the steam and was terribly scalded. His brother and sister at this place were sent for and arrived at his bedside a short time before he expired. The deceased, who was well known in Reynoldsville, was thirty-five years old and unmarried. His remains were brought to this place on Friday, Dec. 28th, and buried in the Catholic cemetery Saturday forenoon. Funeral services were held in the Catholic church.

A Respected Lady Gone.

Mrs. Wm. Burke died at her home in West Reynoldsville Monday forenoon, Dec. 31st, 1894, after a short illness. She had been troubled with rheumatism two weeks before death. The rheumatism went to her heart and broke the silken cords that bound her to this terrestrial ball. Few people were apprised of her illness and the announcement of her death was a great surprise to her host of friends. Mary Chalan was born in County Tipperary, Ireland, in 1832, and was married to William Burke in County Durham, England, in 1857. Mr. and Mrs. Burke were both born in County Tipperary, Ireland. They came to America in 1872 and soon after moved to Reynoldsville where they have since lived. Mrs. Burke was one of those kind and good old ladies that win the esteem and love of all with whom they become intimately acquainted. She had a smile and pleasant word for every person. She was a faithful and consistent member of the Catholic church. The husband and three children, Wm. Burke, jr., of Pittsburg, Mrs. T. C. McEntee and Mrs. Miles Welsh, of this place, survive her. Funeral services were held in the Catholic church Wednesday forenoon and the interment took place in the Catholic cemetery. A large number of people followed her remains to the tomb.

Womer delivered addresses and Miss Josephine Stephenson gave a recitation. There was a large crowd present and the exercises were very interesting.

The G. A. R. officers installed were: Commander, P. K. Mullen; Sr. Vice Commander, D. R. P. Womer; Jr. Vice Commander, John Griffin; Quarter Master, Sam'l Lattimer; Officer of the Day, Joseph Shaffer; Officer of Guard, John J. Davis; Adjutant, R. D. Beer.

Cleared a Hundred.

Fire Co. No. 1 held a supper and dance in the Reynolds block Christmas evening; and served dinner and supper New Year's and held a dance New Year's eve and New Year's night. They cleared about $100.00. Christmas night nine firemen came down from Dubois to attend the festival, and on New Year's night a number of firemen from the same town came down to have a pleasant time.

THE WOLF AT THE DOOR.

About Five Hundred Men Thrown Out of Employment.

On the last day of 1894 the Bell, Lewis & Yate C. M. Co. shut down the Sprague and Hamilton mines indefinitely. This threw about five hundred men out of employment, many of whom have been struggling for some months to keep the gaunt wolf of want from their homes, as their wages have averaged barely enough to keep soul and body together. Many a miner's child in this section has shivered from the cold because the parent could not buy sufficient clothes to keep them warm. In the midst of this deplorable and pitiable condition of affairs the company have shut off the bread and butter from many families by closing the two mines above mentioned. The company claims that they are compelled to do this because of lack of orders for coal. The men, however, are of the opinion that there is some other reason for this action on the part of the company, and that it is to strike a death blow, if possible, to the miner's organization in this section. If the miners be right in their views of the matter, hard hearted and cruel, indeed, are the men who compose a company that would cause so much suffering among women and children that the company may keep their employees under their thumb.

On Friday notices were posted in town that there would be a meeting of the miners in Centennial hall at 9:00 A. M. Saturday and the business men were invited to attend the meeting and discuss the mining situation with the miners. When time for opening the meeting arrived the hall was packed. Only five or six business men attended the meeting. After the meeting had been in progress some time a business man was called upon to give his views of the case. The gentleman said he would like to hear a statement from the company. A committee was appointed to go to the company office and invite Messrs. Elliott and Bell to come into the meeting. The gentlemen did not attend. Mr. Elliott told the committee that the mines were shut down because the company had no orders, and that was all there was about it. He also said that the business men should attend to their own business and he would attend to his. The committee mentioned to Mr. Elliott that the men were under the impression that the company was hiring the new Italians and Poles, that arrived in Reynoldsville by the dozens last week, and were putting them into Big Soldier in preference to the English speaking men who were thrown out of work by shutting the Hamilton and Sprague. Mr. Elliott denied the report and branded it as a lie, but did acknowledge that the new invoice of Italians gathered around the mine for work, and that two or three actually slipped in and went to work without checks.

A Poleander who came from Brockport mines got up and said that word had been sent to that place that all the Italians and Poleanders that wanted work could get it at Reynoldsville, and that he, for one, had come for work but when he found how it was here he did not want to work here, but that he knew of eleven Italian families that had just moved into what is called Snydertown that were going to work for B. L. & Y. C. M. Co. Other men stated in the meeting that they knew for a positive fact that Italians had been hired to work in Big Soldier since the first of the New Year.

The miners of this place never held a meeting before that there was such manifestations of indignation shown as was shown at the meeting Saturday. It is the thoughts of the sufferings of their families and that the company is playing them false that exasperates the miners. The miners were in session almost all day Saturday and finally decided that the Big Soldier would suspend for a time to see what could be done, as there were only about two hundred pick men working in Big Soldier. These men, although making a paltry sum to support their families, offered to divide their work with the men thrown out of work until the company's business would justify them in working all the mines again, but this Mr. Elliott refused to do. The men are all idle now, even the "iron men."

Utopia Circle.

The Utopia Circle of this place, which is composed of fifteen ladies, was organized several years ago for the express purpose of intellectual development. The circle meets every Monday night and the time is spent with some poet, or receiving enlightenment in ancient or modern history, or in reading a book of some noted author. The members of the circle are all married and they adopted the plan of holding a social every six weeks and inviting their "lords" to attend. A light luncheon was provided for such occasions at first, but as the weeks and months disappeared in the archives of time the bill of fare enlarged until it is now quite an elaborate menu. On New Year's night the Utopias held one of their delightful socials at Dr. S. Reynolds' and had a feast of good things for the palate and intellect. Such gatherings ameliorate the mind and would pave the way for dyspepsia were it not for the fact the ladies are all experts in the cuisine department.

At King & Co.'s you will find baled hay, salt, flour and a full line of general merchandise.
